A new power center on the west side of Phoenix has an extensive list of retailers lined up for its opening this fall.

Old Navy is the latest retailer to commit to The Market at Estrella Falls, a 500,000-square-foot power center that is part of Westcor's Estrella Falls retail development near Estrella Parkway and Interstate 10 in Goodyear.

The 15,000-square-foot store is under construction as is the entire project. The power center also will include Bashas', TJ Maxx's HomeGoods store, La-Z-Boy, Petco, Razmataz, Shoe Pavilion and Staples.

In addition to the power center, the project includes Estrella Falls, a mall scheduled to open in 2010. Originally scheduled to open in 2009, construction was pushed back due to a slowing housing market.
